PART - II (SUBJECTIVE)

- 11.(i) What happened to Lencho's cornfield after the hailstorm? How did he react to it? [5]

Or, Who, according to Sunil Manohar Gavaskar, were the four leading all-rounders in the world cricket? Why does any captain love to have all of them in his team?
- (ii) What are the three approaches to control air pollution? [5]

Or, What does Lord Eustace Percy advise students on choosing a profession?

ANSWER: PART - II (SUBJECTIVE)

- 11.(i) Lencho's cornfield was totally destroyed by the unwanted and unexpected hailstorm. Not a leaf remained on the trees. The flowers were gone from the plants. The field was white, as if covered with salt. Lencho's soul was filled with sadness. He stood in the middle of the field helpless. He thought that his family would go hungry throughout the year. He couldn't expect any help from anybody except that of God.

impossible to stay in the house. So I made up my mind to go to the swimming pool to get some respite.

When I was half way on my way, hot gusts of wind gave place to a welcome breeze. Soon the sky was overcast with dark clouds. It began to drizzle. Now it rained in torrents. The street and roads were flooded with the rainwater. The roof tops showed big drops of rain. In the heavy downpour, I was bathed to the skin. I went towards the garden in the rain. There I found that the garden had become a virtual pool of water. I splashed the water in joy.

I saw some small children bathing naked. They were throwing water on one another. They were flowing paper boats in that small pool. Trees and plants dipped water and water every moment. The scene all around was worth-watching.

After a heavy rain I went towards the town. The water was flowing with full force. A flood-like phenomenon met my eyes. The thirsty ground had plenty of water. Traffic was snailing on the roads and streets. The road and the streets became slippery and muddy.

In spite of some difficulties, the rain is welcomed by everybody. It brings a new life to our plants, trees and crops. We should always welcome the rain and the good things it brings.

Dear Sumit,

I am very sorry to hear the very sad news of your failure in the test examination of your school. I have no element of doubt about your hard work. You have fallen prey to bad luck. No doubt this failure has broken your hopes. But don't mind it. Sometime in the moments of sorrow, happiness is hidden. May be you come out with flying colours next time. Continue to work hard the way you did last time. Get ready for the examinations coming. I'm sure you will surprise everyone with your brilliant performance.

Do write to me soon. Please give my respect to your parents and love to your brother.

With deepest sympathy,

Yours sincerely

Suraj

Unit-III, Bhubaneswar-1.

Sir,

Respectfully, I would like to inform you that the pupils of class ten want to make the most of this winter. We have heard a lot about the scenic beauty of the lake Chilika. We will enjoy the real charm of the site if we go there. As our class-promotion examinations are already over, we are absolutely free at present. We have agreed on 27th of this month for the visit.

We would be grateful if you would kindly grant us permission to go on a picnic.

Yours faithfully,

14. Title : Harmful Effects of Noise Pollution

Noise pollutes our environment just as much as smoke, dirty water, dirty air and litter. It can cause illness and deafness. Naseer, a boy who lived on a busy street hardly knew that his body was reacting to the noise. A doctor in West Germany proved that sounds heard by persons when they are asleep can cause danger to their hearts and blood vessels.

The flood water eats into its banks on both sides. Sometimes the banks give way and the flood water rushes forward. It drifts away houses, animals and even human beings. When the flood water gushes out with a terrific speed, men, women and children leave their houses and run to high places of safety. Thousands of people become homeless and spend days together without food and shelter. There can be no worse tragedy than this for human beings.

Flood is one of the natural calamities that causes great damage to men and animals. It damages their crops. Mud built houses and hovels collapse. Some people especially old men, women and children lose their lives lying under the collapsed houses. Animals drift away with the current of the flood water.

Government and generous people come to their rescue. They send them food stuffs, clothes and medicine packets. Government puts up tents for their shelter. At times food packets, clothes and blankets are dropped down from aeroplanes for the flood-hit people.

There are some flood-prone areas which are badly affected by flood every year. The District Administrations in the State have formed natural calamity committees to chalk out measures for checking floods in rivers and for helping the flood-affected people. Government has built dams across many rivers in Odisha to control floods. In spite of all measures taken up by the Government to control floods, floods occur in rivers and cause a lot of damage to the living beings.

With great advances made in the field of science, people in course of time will be able to find out ways and means to control floods in rivers on a permanent basis.

In India we have monsoon or rainy season during the months of July, August and September. After a long spell of hot summer, everybody waits eagerly for a downpour. My experience of a rainy day is full of joy and happiness.

Last year during the month of June, our school had just reopened after a long summer vacation. It was still quite hot. The birds and animals were gasping for breath. Due to unbearable heat, it was
